Outstanding Results

Pugh, Jones, Johnson & Quandt, P.C. was founded in 1991, and with its 25 lawyers is one of the largest minority-owned and managed firms in the City of Chicago. We provide legal services in complex civil and white collar criminal trials and appeals, municipal finance, complex commercial real estate transactions and other transactional expertise to corporations, governmental entities, academic institutions and entrepreneurs. Our lawyers are former federal prosecutors, experienced municipal finance and tax experts, and experienced trial counsel. We are labor and employment trial lawyers and counsel on specific claims including administrative proceedings, federal and state court lawsuits, mediation, arbitration and collective bargaining. We try complex civil cases including patent, employment, major personal injury and wrongful death claims, medical malpractice and pharmaceutical products liability cases. We have extensive experience in regulatory proceedings, particularly cases involving insurance coverage, energy and telecommunications.

Pugh, Jones, Johnson & Quandt's clients include small businesses and Fortune 100 retailers, manufacturers and marketers of products from prescription drugs to furniture; providers of medical, accounting and consulting professional services; and academic institutions and governmental entities.

Every matter is unique in its complexity and challenges. Our firm's Leading Lawyers, Stephen H. Pugh, Walter Jones, Jr., Dennis P.W. Johnson, Eric F. Quandt, Scott A. Bremer, Mary K. Periolat and Linzey D. Jones, Jr., in addition to others on our legal team, achieve outstanding results for our clients by identifying the issues and developing innovative solutions to their legal needs. We recognize our clients' challenges, exceed their expectations, and offer them substantial expertise in a broad range of legal services in all areas of their business.

In addition to the prestigious recognition as Leading Lawyers, members of our firm have been recognized by the Illinois Trial Lawyers Society, American College of Trial Lawyers, American Board of Criminal Lawyers, International Academy of Trial Lawyers, America's Leading Business Lawyers, Illinois Attorneys Under 40 to Watch, and Top Women Lawyers in Illinois. We are listed in the "Red Book." Our lawyers belong to prestigious organizations such as the National Minority Law Group, National Association of College and University Attorneys, National Association of Bond Lawyers, Lambda Alpha International, Black Women Lawyers Association, South Suburban Mayors and Managers Association, and the Defense Research Institute.
